To Whom It May Concern:

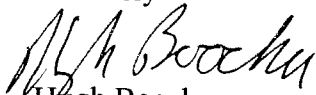

I met Omar Ramirez during the construction of the Atlantis Phase II Project, Paradise Island, Bahamas. The HVAC Company Mr. Ramirez worked for was involved in all areas of this project including an addition to the Atlantis Casino, Convention Center and the Cove Hotel. Each phase of this project was unique and had it own challenges.

As a Construction Executive for the past fifteen years I have been involved in many large scale projects from hotels, university dormitories to a light rail transit station. All of these projects have required my interaction with HVAC superintendents and project managers.

Mr. Ramirez's exceptional qualities and skills would include his attention to schedule, coordination with other trades, knowledge of safe construction practices and attention to details. I have found him to be well organized with good communication skills and very sound judgment.

In closing Omar Ramirez would be an excellent addition to any organization or project that needs team members that can complete projects on time without any hand holding.

Sincerely
